

Surething Sep 2018 – New lyrics and new chords. Substitute E9 for Em7

Past the sign for all to read
I'm the only one who gives a guarantee
Take off into the blue
Look down at all the roads and grip that little horseshoe

Sun and the moon fly by, like two coins thrown in a big game
Bank through clouds, slots of jet stream
Ding ding, hope shoots up high into the air
Pilots up front looking for action

Break – possibly Dmaj7 to Amy to G

Arrows spin round and eyes light up and the horizon starts to tilt
Rolling away in the sky,
Then we dip down like the first drop on the midnight Big One

And you know that we'll touch down one day now
It's just a matter of luck, someday, somehow,
We'll find that surething. Surething.

Instrumental verse

And we'll hit the jackpot one day now
It's just a matter of time, someday, somehow
We'll find that surething.

And you know that we'll touch down one day now
It's just a matter of luck, someday, somehow,
We'll find that surething. Surething.

Past the sign for all to read
I'm the only one who gives a guarantee
Cruising on a lost plane
Flying in the face of all probability

And you know that we'll touch down one day now
It's just a matter of love, someday, somehow,
We'll find that surething. Surething.

And we'll hit the jackpot one day now
It's just a matter of time, someday, somehow
We'll find that surething.
